TODAY & TOMORROW

NOVEMBER 2-15, 1985

ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED

RUSH — TIME DATED

Lee M. Jampol, MD, professor and chair of ophthalmology at Northwestern University, is the 1985 Kimura Visiting Professor and Lecturer. Jampol will present the Kimura Lecture entitled "Cystoid Macular Edema—Pathogenesis and Treatment" on Thursday, November 14, at 9:15 a.m. in the postgraduate dental auditorium, Room C 701, as part of Ophthalmology Grand Rounds.

A specialist in diseases of the retina, Jampol also will meet with interns and speak to researchers in the Department of Ophthalmology on macular degeneration of the retina.

The lectureship honors Samuel J. Kimura, professor emeritus of ophthalmology, who died in 1979. He had a long and distinguished career as an outstanding clinician and educator and was a world authority on uveitis and other ocular inflammatory diseases.

The Koret Family House, a residential facility for families of children receiving cancer treatment at the Medical Center at UCSF, is offering a free class on how to read stories to ill children on Tuesdays, November 5 and 12, from 6 to 8 p.m., 50 Irving Street. The training class is open to anyone 15 years of age and older. For further information call 753-3505.

The Friends of the UCSF Child Care/Study Center is sponsoring a community forum on "Child Day Care in the San Francisco Community: New Directions, New Opportunities" on Thursday, November 21, at 5 p.m. in Toland Hall. A reception will follow.

The forum will include a panel discussion on the implications of the Downtown Plan for child day care in San Francisco with Supervisor Nancy Walker; Karen Furia, a member of the Mayor's Advisory Council on Child Care; and Meryl Glass, director of the UCSF Child Care/Study Center.

For further information call Katie Menees, x64421.

On display for the next few months in the Rare Book Room of the UCSF Library, Room S 357, is an exhibit entitled "Chauncey Leake and Anesthesia." Included are selections from Leak's correspondence with various noted anesthetists, photographs and biographical materials. The exhibit's opening coincided with the meeting of the Anesthesia History Association, which met on campus the week of October 14. Leake is the late UCSF pharmacologist who died in 1978.

The UCSF Women's Resource Center is sponsoring a support group for UCSF women clerical workers. The purpose of the group is to provide a supportive environment to share work-related experiences in order to improve working conditions and reduce stress. The group meets Fridays from noon to 1 p.m. in Room C 517. For further information contact Liz Samit, coordinator of the group, at x65836.

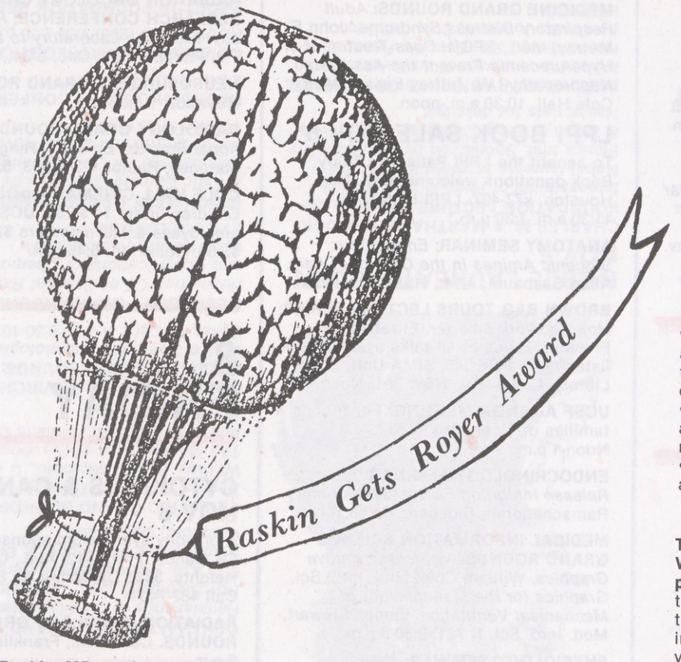
DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, covering the time period Nov. 16-Dec. 6 (three weeks) will be Tuesday, Nov. 5, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., Rm. 300, x61541 or x62557.



Neil H. Raskin, MD, professor and vice chair of neurology and an international expert in the scientific basis and therapy of headache, has won the 22nd J. Elliott Royer Award.

An engraved plaque, certificate and $15,000 were presented to Raskin by School of Medicine Dean Rudi Schmid at a campus ceremony on October 29.

The Royer Award was established by the UC Regents in memory of the late Oakland physician, who left an endowment to honor each year a physician in Alameda, Contra Costa or San Francisco County who has made a significant contribution to the advancement of neurology or psychiatry.

Raskin, who came to UCSF in 1968, has published numerous research papers on the causes and treatments of various types of headache, including migraine. His book Headache, published in 1980, was the first scientifically-based monograph on the topic and is used throughout the country as a textbook.

Last year, Raskin was credited with being the first to successfully treat migraine sufferers with intravenous dihydroergotamine (DHE), an injectable drug which has been around since the 1940s, and which is a cousin to the commonly used migraine drug, ergotamine.

In addition to his continuing work in the field of headache management, he has made scholarly and scientific contributions to the study of a number of neurological and metabolic disorders and has done fundamental work on alcohol-related biochemical aspects of cerebral function.

Friday, November 8, is the new date for the first phase of UCSF's total telephone system change. The change has been on hold since July due to Pacific Bell scheduling. On Friday at 10:15 p.m. the following will occur:

- The telephone prefix 666 will change to 476. LPPI's prefix will change from 681 to 476.
- To dial any campus number, use 6 and the present last four digits. To dial any LPPI number from within the campus use 67 and the present last three digits.
- SFGH, CED, VAMC, UCSF-Laurel Heights and other off-campus locations with 666 prefixes also will switch to 476 and continue to have their same last four-digit extensions. Use 6 and the four digits when dialing on campus.
- To dial off-campus numbers in the 415 area code, dial 9 plus the seven-digit number.
- To dial off-campus numbers in other area codes, dial 9, plus area code, plus

The contest is on!!! The UCSF United Way Campaign has begun and the competition is hot. Which school will have the highest percentage of employee participation? Will it be the School of Nursing, the number one participant last year, or one of the three challengers—the schools of Dentistry, Pharmacy and Medicine? Not to be left in the dust, Hospitals and Clinics has challenged the rest of the campus staff employees in their determination to set a new record for UCSF participation.

Participation is UCSF's campaign theme. At the time of this writing the campus senior officers and members of the management program have succeeded in achieving 97% participation in advance of the campaign. Every dollar counts and goes to many worthwhile health and human care organizations. To mention just a few: the San Francisco AIDS Foundation, St. Vincent's Home for Boys, the American Heart Association, suicide prevention centers, child care programs, and numerous services for seniors.

the seven-digit number.
- UCSF no longer will use the "6" or "8" access codes or the special system-wide campus access numbers listed in the directory.
- To transfer calls, depress the switch hook button once. Wait for dial tone. Dial the new telephone number. Wait for ring. Replace the handle.

Phase II will begin immediately following the cutover on November 8:
- Rotary phones will be exchanged for new push-button phones. This will be done in phases over a period of several months. Each department will be contacted to discuss individual equipment needs.
- Once the push-button phones are in place, a variety of special optional features will be available, including call forwarding and speed dialing. These options will be discussed with departments in advance.

Hospitals and Clinics also will change to the 476 prefix plus the present last four digits:
- Hospitals and Clinics' new main telephone number will be 476-1000, (separate from the main campus number of 476-9000), and will be handled by operators located in Moffitt lobby. They also will have the responsibility of overhead page, fire, Code Blue and answering service functions.
- All new pushbutton telephone instruments for the hospitals will be installed on a by-building basis.

For further information on the new campus telephone system call Irene Holland at x1581 or Mas Sugiyama at x2548. Questions regarding Hospitals and Clinics should be directed to Marty Gustafson at x4073.

The pocket pager beeper system will be shut down on Wednesday, November 6, beginning at 10 p.m. and lasting up to four hours, in order to prepare for the switchover to the new campus telephone system. During this time the hospital will depend on the telephone system and the overhead (loudspeaker) paging system to contact persons on call within the hospital. All people assigned to carry beepers MUST stay within range of the overhead page.

The overhead page will announce the beginning and end of the pager beeper shutdown. To reach the page operator during the shutdown, call x2155. It is asked that calls be kept to a minimum in order to deliver appropriate patient care. All Code Blue calls should continue to be directed to x1234. For further information call Doug Shaw, x3862.

Departmental donor representatives have handed out United Way envelopes to all employees. Employees may either make a lump-sum contribution or authorize monthly deductions from paychecks. Employees also may use the donor option plan to designate their contribution to any one of the United Way agencies or to any tax-exempt health or human service agency in California.

Watch the "UCSF TV News Update" monitors during the campaign to see who is leading. Up-to-date results also will be posted in the display cases in the Medical Sciences lobby.

Sixty leaders in the field of health risk appraisal and risk reduction, including seven UCSF faculty, will speak at the 21st annual meeting of the Society of Prospective Medicine, Saturday to Tuesday, November 23 to 26, at the Cathedral Hill Hotel, SF.

Addressing such issues as the 13 major risk factors, "Type A" behavior, and dietary carcinogens and anti-carcinogens will be Assistant US Surgeon General William H. Foege, Jr., MD, Mount Zion's Meyer Friedman, MD, and UC-Berkeley's Bruce Ames, PhD, professor and chair, biochemistry.

The keynote address will be by Albert R. Jonsen, UCSF professor of ethics, medicine and pediatrics. He will speak on "Prospective Medicine on the Move: The Ethical Issues Facing Health Promotion Practitioners."

Other UCSF presentations will be by Jerome A. Motto, MD, psychiatry; Nicholas Petrakis, MD, preventive medicine and epidemiology and international health; Thomas J. Coates, PhD, medicine and Behavioral Medicine Unit; Diana Pettiti, MD, MPH, and Jonathan E. Rodnick, MD, family and community medicine; and Charles E. Irwin, Jr., MD, adolescent medicine.

The meeting is cosponsored by the Society of Prospective Medicine Institute and the UCSF Department of Epidemiology and International Health. Linda Civitello-Joy, business and community liaison, Office of Public Service Programs, is conference chair. For further information contact Civitello-Joy at x63206.

Pentii Siiteri, PhD, professor of ob/gyn and reproductive sciences, and codirector of the UCSF Reproductive Endocrinology Center, is among the first recipients of a National Cancer Institute award aimed at providing long-term support for top investigators.

The new "Outstanding Investigator Grant" will provide Siiteri with $3 million over seven years. It is one of only 23 issued so far.

A research associate of the UCSF Cancer Research Institute, Siiteri has spent more than 20 years studying the production, transport and mechanisms of action of estrogens. His work has provided important clues to how abnormalities in the process may lead to cancer.

Siiteri currently is exploring the interaction of steroid hormones with cell receptors, attempting to identify tissue androgens that can block estrogen's action at the receptors.

The Institute for Health and Aging has received a $2.4 million award from the Health Care Financing Administration to evaluate social/health maintenance organizations (S/HMOs) in the US.

S/HMOs represent a new approach in the delivery and financing of long-term care services for the aged. Unlike traditional providers, S/HMOs offer a comprehensive range of services which are provided on a prepaid basis rather than a fee-for-service basis.

The four-year study will determine if S/HMOs can provide a viable and cost-effective alternative to the traditional system of long-term care, which has been characterized as costly and ineffective in meeting the needs of the aged who are chronically ill. Principal investigators of the study are Robert J. Newcomer, PhD, assistant director of the institute, and Charlene Harrington, PhD, assistant professor.

A UC loan program which assists eligible faculty in buying a new home has met its goal of helping to recruit and retain key professors, UC Regents were told in October.

In the 15 months since it has been in existence, the UC Mortgage Origination Program has closed on 66 loans, with more than half of those going to recruit new faculty members, said Steven Mathews, director of faculty housing programs.

Several campuses were able to offer the loans to faculty who had been considering offers from other schools, and it made the difference in keeping them here, said Mathews.

The Regents voted to continue funding the program for up to $15 million a year once current funding runs out in July 1986. To be eligible for the program, faculty must be nominated through their department.

The average amount of a loan was $150,600, and the average home price was $222,000. Mathews said all UC campuses were represented, with San Francisco receiving 5 loans; Berkeley, 12; Davis, 5; Irvine, 11; Los Angeles, 17; Riverside, 2; San Diego, 7; Santa Barbara, 5; and Santa Cruz, 2.

The State of California has designated the UCSF Alzheimer's Program as a center to provide services to patients and their families.

The center provides evaluation and care for those who seem confused, depressed and have problems with memory. Since other conditions can be mistaken for Alzheimer's, a comprehensive assessment is made, which includes medical, social, nursing and psychological evaluations.

Specially trained staff in internal medicine, neurology, psychology, psychiatry, nursing, social work and pharmacology, work with the family providing counseling, home visits, information and referrals. The team also works closely with the patient's physician and emphasizes special attention to the problems of the spouse and family in caring for the patient.

The Alzheimer's Center is directed by Leon J. Epstein, PhD, professor, psychiatry. Mariann T. DiMinno, clinical nurse, aging and mental health, is the administrator. It is located at 1350-7th Ave., Room 228. To obtain information or for a screening evaluation appointment call 731-3111.

Residents living in the Laurel Heights neighborhood and the campus community will have the opportunity to hear the latest information on plans for the UCSF-Laurel Heights campus at the third in a series of public information meetings, to be held on Tuesday, November 12, at 7 p.m. in the auditorium at 3333 California Street. For further information call x63206.

The Department of Nursing is accepting applications for its Distinguished Nurse Award, given each year to a UCSF professional nurse who is actively engaged in nursing practice, education, or administration.

The goal of the award is to recognize an RN's outstanding contribution to the care of patients and to foster professional and public awareness of achievements in nursing practice.

To be eligible you must be employed with a position no higher than administrative or clinical nurse III. Nominees will be judged on:
- significance of the problem addressed by the project or approach to nursing practice, administration or education;
- creativity and innovation shown, and the effectiveness of the methods used by the nurse to implement the project;
- quality of the evaluation conducted by the nurse for assessment of the project's outcomes and the degree to which beneficial outcomes have been evidenced in the nurse's setting;
- availability of the project for improving practice in other settings.

For further information call Pamela Minarik, x65317, beeper 222, or Jane Hirsch, x61848.

HONORS & AWARDS

Theodore L. Phillips, professor & chair, radiation oncology: Appointed chair, board of directors, American Society for Therapeutic Radiology & Oncology. Phillips is former president of the society and gave the presidential address "Radiochemotherapy: From the Laboratory to the Clinic."

A.J. Hudspeth, professor, physiology & otolaryngology: Received the W. Alden Spencer Award from the College of Physicians & Surgeons, Columbia.

PUBLICATIONS

Shirley Cooper & Leon Wanerman, clinical professors, psychiatry: Coauthors, A Casebook of Child Psychotherapy: Strategies & Technique (Brunner Mazel, NY, 1984).

Paul Davidson, associate clinical professor, medicine: Author, Are You Sure It's Arthritis? A Guide to Soft-Tissue Rheumatism (MacMillan, NJ, 1985).

APPOINTMENTS

Nancy Fugate Woods: Visiting Presidential Scholar, School of Nursing, Oct. 1-June 30. Recognized nationally for her research in women's health, Woods will be assisting School of Nursing faculty with various aspects of their own research. She is professor & chair of the Department of Parent & Child Nursing, University of Washington School of Nursing.

Shelley Patterson, occupational therapist, rehabilitation therapy, LPPI: Awarded the First Oak Leaf Cluster to the Army Commendation Medal; promoted to the rank of major, US Army Reserves.

IN MEMORIAM

George Franklin McGee, clinical professor emeritus, School of Dentistry. A 1923 graduate of the School of Dentistry, he was a member of the UCSF faculty for some 25 years and practiced dentistry at his 450 Sutter Street office from 1929 until his retirement in 1976. During his tenure at UCSF, McGee lectured around the country and abroad and published many papers on prosthodontics, the dental specialty of making artificial replacements for missing parts of the mouth and jaw. The family suggests that donations be sent to the American Diabetes Association or a favorite charity.

Nobel laureate Manfred Eigen will present the Hitchcock Foundation Lecture "Mozart and the Impossibility of Recognizing Genius" on Tuesday, November 5, at 3 p.m. in Cole Hall.

Eigen is director of the Max Planck Institute for Biophysical Chemistry, Goettingen, Germany. He won the 1967 Nobel Prize in Chemistry for investigating extremely rapid chemical reactions by using very short energy pulses.

Although Eigen's major interest lies in neurobiology, he also is an accomplished musician and has recorded piano pieces with the Deutsche Gramophone. He is a Mozart enthusiast.

As part of the Charles M. and Martha Hitchcock Foundation Lecture program, Eigen also will lecture at UC-Berkeley in Wheeler Auditorium at 4 p.m.:
- Mon., Nov. 4: "Replication Kinetics and the Concept of Quasi-Species."
- Thurs., Nov. 7: "Optimization in the Universe of Nucleic Acid Sequences."
- Mon., Nov. 11: "Evolutionary Biotechnology."

Eigen's lecture at UCSF is sponsored by the Graduate Division and the Biophysics Program.
